

Simonas Grybauskas, D.D.S., M.D., PhD, MOS RCSEd

CV (short)

Simonas Grybauskas graduated from Kaunas University of Medicine and acquired his Dental degree in 2000. In Vilnius University he completed his training in oral surgery (2003) and maxillofacial surgery (2006). In 2008 he acquired his Medical degree and became a double qualified oral and maxillofacial surgeon. Simonas Grybauskas passed the exams and became a Member of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh as of 2005. In 2009, he acquired PhD degree awarded by Riga Stradins University (Latvia).

Present position of Dr Simonas Grybauskas is Doctor oral and maxillofacial surgeon at "S'OS Simonas Grybauskas' Orthognathic Surgery" and private Vilnius Kardiolita Hospital.

Dr Simonas Grybauskas has published or co-authored more than 5 scientific articles and has delivered more than 200 lectures on orthognathic and reconstructive surgery in international conferences and courses.

Dr Grybauskas is a member of the Lithuanian Association of Maxillofacial Surgery as of 2002, a member of the Baltic Association of Maxillofacial and Plastic Surgery since 2002 and a member of the European Association for Cranio–Maxillofacial Surgery starting from 2005. Dr Simonas Grybauskas hosted and directed two major Baltic Sea conferences on orthognathic surgery and orthodontics in Vilnius (2009) and Riga (2015) and organized seven training courses on orthognathic surgery and orthodontics.

Dr Grybauskas devotes most of his time to orthognathic and reconstructive surgery, maxillofacial traumatology and implantology. Differences in facial morphology among populations and their influence on planning of facial surgery is the scope of his scientific work.

